

Utah Valley Vocal Artist Showcase

Featuring the Next Generation of Recording Artists

Covey Center for the Arts – Main Theater

October 23, 2026 | 7:00 PM

Objective: To bring a piece of heaven into our community through the sharing of authentic, guileless beauty in vocal talent. To provide a stage for artists with musical gifts to grow their audience and following.

General Details: It will be a not-for-profit event. Profit will be donated to a local charity.

Artist Selection Guidelines:

I am seeking artists who may meet the following criteria, but all applicants are welcome.

Consider the following as general guidelines I will follow in selecting performers:

- Singer-songwriters in Pop, Indie Pop, Alternative, Acoustic, Folk Pop, Soul, R&B, Contemporary Christian, and similar styles.
- Singers actively pursuing a career in music, as demonstrated by released music, YouTube videos, EPs, a following of approximately 500–30,000 monthly Spotify listeners (or similar engagement on other platforms), or other evidence of action pursuing artistic career growth.
- Targeting singers of the younger generations, 35 and younger (not a hard and fast rule).
- All applicants are welcome. Final selections will be based on overall cohesion with performers already selected, along with the criteria above.

Application Process:

To apply, email Dave Ogles at dogles16@gmail.com with the following information:

1. Name
2. Age
3. A sample audition — this could be a sound file, link to a YouTube video, or Spotify song — anything that will help me understand the type of musician you are. The more content available for review, the better.
